MR. BALDWIN'S FAST FILLY BEATING A FINE FIELD IN THE RACE

FOR THE LASSIE STAKES. Little Dry Menopole Upsets the Giants in the Midsummer Handleap—The Colt Cambyses Wins his First Race.

When Messrs. Withers, Galway, and Mo-Dowell stepped into the stand at Monmouth Park yesterday to judge the horses, they saw more than the usual Tuesday crowd on the grounds. The programme promised excellent sport, and the promise was fulfilled. The track was heavy, and in some places quite muddy This tested the stamina of the horses in the fine fields that appeared, in all of which it required race horses to win. The judges were somewhat in doubt as to whether one of the horses, Saxony, in the fourth race, was out to win. He lacked the condition that has characterized his late races, and came in a poor third. without being hurried in the least. His rider. Stone, was called up and questioned. He said that the horse had done his best, and was then permitted to depart in peace.

To followers of the turf who take notes of the performances of juveniles, the Lassie Stakes for two-year-old fillies was an event of more than ordinary interest. Among the starters was Glenelg's dashing daughter Los Angeles, that early spring reports declared the fastest filly that was ever timed on Lucky Baldwin's famous ranch in southern California. Los Angeles won the Ladies' Stakes at Louisville, at five furiongs, with 112 pounds, in 1:02, and the Elmendorf, with the same weight, at three-quarters of a mile, in 1:16%. The Western filly Ocean, winner of the Sensation Stakes at Latonia; Sea Fog, winner of the Good-by Stakes; My Own, winner of the seaboard were in the race. Sea Fog and Los Angeles headed the betting at 4 to 1 against each, Mr. Belmont's filly Peeress and Mr. Haggin's filly Daniella following at 6 to 1 each.

The fillies were sent away in splendid shape by Mr. Calitwell. They raced in a close cluster slong the backstretch from the quarter post, with Flitaway, Belinda, and Mr. Withers's Maxim filly in the front line, and Slumber at the tail of the squad. Flitaway gradually drew out of the compact mass while passing the half-mile post, and on the turn for the three-quarter post got out into the light, the Maxim filly, Los Angeles, and Damilla heading the pack in pursuit. Austrienne reached the front after Filtaway had been drawn into the bunch, and piloted the way into the homestretch in a magnificent race, followed by Los Angeles, landing her winner head and shoulders in front of Austriense.

race, followed by Los Angeles. West made a string finish on Los Angeles, landing her winner head and shoulders in front of Austrienne.

Betting men tossed money lavishly on the little horse Dry Monopole in the Midsummer Bandicap. Lucky Baldwin's fast filly Estrella, Mr. Haggin's flyer Preclosa, Mr. Woodford's aged glant Barnum Mr. Cook's game horse Ferg Kyle. Preakness Stable's fleetfooted Linden, and other cracks measured strides with the little horse. Mr. Withers's horse Stonebuck turned the wrong way while the flag was flashing, and so lost his chance in the race. His stable companion, Salisbury, was first away, but was headed by Ferg Kyle at the first turn. Ferg set a fast pace along the backstretch, pulling out in the light and holding the van to the turn into the straight, where McLaughlin sent Lry Monopole for the money, followed by West on Estrella. The pair made a galant fighting finish. Dry Monopole forging ahead foot by foot in the last hundred yards, and winning the race by half a length in the creditable time, for the track and weight of 1:46.

The opening race was a mile dash for madens. P. Lorillard, Jr.'s, gray colt Cambyses, by Mortemer, was third choice. It was his fifth attempt to win this season, and he was well backed. Ed Heffner's filly Enfaula made a procession of the field in the first half of the race, but Cambyses half lapped her at the half-mile post. Rafforty sent Cambyses; o the front on the far turn, and held the van to the finish, winning by two lengths, Puzzle second.

Many club men backed Fred Gebhard's stout horse Eole in the handicap at a mile and a quarter, making the horse favorite at 2 to 1 against him. Mr. Cohen's mare Tolu cut out the work in the opening furlong, Mr. Kahn's coit Saxony taking it up on passing the standinto the even mile, and leading round and into t

By rare good luck the Indians drew out another victory yesterday, after the game seemed lost. Hoth clubs played an unsteady game, and the errors came dearly both. Had it not been for a wild throw by Crowlei the Indians would not have won the game. Both Lynch and Crowell were effective in their pitching, the hits made off them being more or less scattered, and in only one case were they productive of a rm. The game was interesting and close up to the eighth inning, with the odds in favor of the visitors. In the eighth inning, after one man was out, Roseman hit safe, and Sommers gave a chance to put him out at seed the hit to course field, the ball. General to be see started around the circuit Roseman stopped at third base, and Sommers found himself there, too, and the ball in Crowell's hands. Sommers turned to go back to second, and Crowell threw to head him off, but the ball went far out into centre field. This enabled both men to accore and moved Gerhardt up to third. Lynch brought him in with a hit, and the game was won. The scores

J. Falmer O'Neil of the Allegany Club, one of the directors, left for New York tast evening to consummate the deal if possible. I expect to hear from him or President Day of the New York team to morrow. I do not intend my drat offer as final, and if there is the least chance of making a deal, as I said yestorday, I am willing to draw my check for $20,000 and make my own terms with Ward afterward. All we want now is the release. I have fully considered this move, and am satisfied that it will be a goosl investment from a bustness point of view. AN OLD-TIME PRIZE FIGHT. JACK HOPPER WHIPPED AND NEARLY KILLED BY BILLY DACEY.

Pour Scientific but Savage Rounds-Daces Goes for Hopper's Stomach with Terrible Effect-A Long-Talked-or Battle.

The prize fight to a finish, which has been pending for several weeks, between Jack Hopper and Billy Dacey, the light weights, was brought to a focus at daylight yesterday. Four times previous to last night it was attempted to bring the mon together, each attempt ending in an inglorious fizzle, and each time a crowd bent on seeing the mill were sent off on tips that led them wild chases around the country, that lasted the night through. The men had signed articles to fight to a finish, for $250 a side and a purse of $600, with skintight gloves. It is doubtful whether the fight would ever have taken place had it not been for a well-known Bowery sport, who came forward and gave a purse of $500. He is looking for a man to pit against Jimmy Mitchell of Philadelphia, and his idea was to take off the winner of the present fight.

THE MEN.

Jack Hopper was born in New York and is 27 years old, 5 feet 5 inches, and he weighed 134% pounds. He whipped Billy Dalton in eight rounds. Billy Debaun in twelve rounds, Tommy Mellon of Providence in seven rounds, Sam Johnson of Connecticut in four rounds, Paddy Smith in twelve rounds, James Manning in sev

Paddy Smith in twelve rounds, James Manning in seventeen rounds, Johnny Mack in four rounds, and Mike Cushing in twenty-five rounds. He was whipped by Jack McAulide in seventeen rounds. All these were skinglove fights.

Dacey is also a New Yorker. He is 24 years old, about 5 feet by inches tail, and he weighed 185 pounds. Dacey is best known through his fight with Jack Dempsey, which took place on March 8, 1884, on Coney Island. Dempsey won in nine rounds, lasting thirty-seven minutes. Dacey has whipped Jack Connova in the rounds, Jack Mannick in twenty three rounds, Prof. Kelly in three rounds, Marcellus Baker in four rounds, and has fought draws with Fom Allen, Jack Conover, and a number of others. He was at one time matched against Frank White for $600 a side, but the match fell through, as did also a second match with Jack Dempsey. He is a very clever boxer.

ber of others. He was at one time matched against Frank Whis for 8000 a side, but the match fell through, as did also a second match with Jack Dempsey. He is a very clever boxer.

The gentleman who put up the money made all arrangements, and so close was the line drawn at giving the tip that none but those he and the principals invited were at the ring. Burt Townsend's Point Comfort Hotel, Hemptstead Beach, was the site selected for the mill. The major part of the spectators, with the principals, took the 7 P. M. train out of Long Island City for Long Beach, whence all hands tooks train to Point Lookout. From there to Townsend's, at Point Comfort, has to be done by boat. It was pitch dark, and just beginning to rain when all started down a board walk from Point Lookout Hotel over the marshes for the boat landing. On the walk into the bilinding darkness, and eternity for all they knew at the time, but they found a landing in the sand four feet below. The wind was blowing a pretty stiff gale on the strip of beach, and this, with a slight fail of rain, was sufficient to make the biggest part of the crowd prefer staying where they were until daylight. The principals, seconds, and a few others made the trip. The rest went back to the Point Lookout Hotel, and there made a night of it. But Sweeney, John Woods, Arty Kerker, Jim Johnson, and Jack Elliott played a match game at billiards for the left-hand champlonship of the Great South Bay, and Jim Johnson wen.

At daylight two boats carried the party to the battle ground. The ring had been erected on a dancing platform adjoining the hotel. The donor of the purse gave the word to bring down the men for their medicine. Outside the ropes were soon gathered the party, fifty-one in all. In a few minutes Hopper appeared and entered the ring. Behind him were Jack and Howe Burgess, his seconds. He wore blue tights, red stockings, and white canvas shoes. Pat Sweeney was no elected referce, and entered the ring. Behind him were Jack and Howe Burgess, his seconds were Tommy Barne than the rules allow.

The fight was awarded to Dacey. The last round lasted 2 minutes 21 seconds, making the full time of the fight 14 minutes 21 seconds. The old ring goers said the battle was one of the best for the time it lasted ever witnessed in an American ring. The hat went around for Hopper, and $117 was collected. Everybody thought he had been killed as he lay on the floor after hislast knock-down.

FARRELL KNOCKED SILLY. A Bloody Prize Fight on a Steamboat in the Middle of the Hudson.

There was a bloody prize fight very early yesterday morning at a point on the Hudson River where an expert engineer would have to make a survey before it could be proved to the satisfaction of a jury whether the steamer on which the ring was pliched was on the New Jersey or the New York side of the centre. The men battled for a purse of $300 and a bet of $200 a side, or $700 in all. A few sporting men of New York and Brooklyn got a straight tip late on Monday afternoon that two unknowns. of much strength and ambition, though having little science, would fight to a finish in the presence of such gentlemen as had a large enough wad of the stuff to pay incidental ex-penses, and that handsome Jack McAuliffe of Brooklyn would serve as referee. Jack however, was not referee. He got left on the however, was not referee. He got left on the wharf at Irvington. He and a few friends passed the morning hours in the shelter of a barn, and took an early train back to this city.

It was not far from 1 o'clock when the ring was pitched on the main deck aft of the steamer, and Mike Rennedy of Yonkers was chosen referee. He announced that London prize ring rules would govern, and then, as the men stepped into the ring and stood in opposite corners, he introduced them as John, otherwise known as Jack, Francis, Deputy Sheriff of Westchester county, residing at Dobbs Ferry, and Thomas Farrell. The fact was not mentioned by the referee, but a Yonkers sport announced in a stage whisper that Tommy was a beer jerker in a gin mill at shaft 12 on the new aqueduct.

Both men had been carefully trained, and in the kindly light of three ship's lanters were pleasing to look upon. Francis weighed in at 152 pounds and Farrell at two pounds less, Francis looked the gamer of the two, and became so much of a favorite that moderate odds were offered at once, with few takers. They were offered at once, with few takers. They were offered at once, with few takers. They fanned with towels by their seconds, received the word, advanced and shook hands, and then put up their daddies after the approved form. Farrell at once led with his left, but the blow fell short. As quick as a flash Francis struck out with his right, landing with a thwack on Farrell's loft eye. Little globules of blood spuried out like red sparks from under a triphammer, and Farrell's hock rose up as his wharf at Irvington. He and a few friends passed head went down, and he fell full length on the deck, with a resounding thud. He was on his feet in time, however, but that blow practically ended the round, for nothing more was done.

In the second both men toed the seratch with energy, but no sconer was the word given than Farrell closed with his opponent, apparently hoping to wind him with body blows. It was a vain attempt. Breaking away, Francis smashed Farrell in the mouth with his left, and stretched him on the deck again almost as heavily as before. Not satisfied with this, Francis followed up the blow by striking Farrell while yet he was striving to get on his feet. There was a tumult immediately. Friends of Farrell yelled "Foul!" till they were hoarse, and the other side aiternately cursed the Farrell crowd and their own man for getting into such a fix. A dozen men were at the point of starting fights on their own account when Farrell got to his feet, and before the referee could decide on the claim of foul, had made a rush for Francis and fought out the stipulated time of the round. This was held to cure the foul.

Farrell vibrated on his legs as he faced rush for Francis and fought out the stipulated time of the round. This was held to cure the foul.

Farrell vibrated on his legs as he faced his opponent, and his hands wobbled about as he put them up. Francis was firm on his feet and his eye had a hard look in it. Parrell was very groggy. A comparison of the two men was not pleasing to compassionate souls, and several of these turned away as the word was given. The more experienced sportsmen leaned eagerly forward over the ropes. They saw Francis draw back his right a trifle, at the word, and with a swinging motion land it fair on Farrell's mouth, already out, bleeding, and almost swollen out of all semblance of a human feature. The poor fellow reeled around with a cackling sort of a laugh, and tumbled in a heap on the deck. His whole face and chest were red with blood. His second lifted him up instantly, but he had literally been knocked silly, and fied willdy around the ring, striving to find an opening in the solld wall of spectators through which to escape.

The fight was over and the money was given to Francis. With better management Farrell would have got it on the foul.

WAR IN PASSENGER RATES.

The Trunk Lines Exercised Over the Cut in East-bound Pares From Chicago. Boston, July 19.-Railroad men, during the past week, have become excited over the cut made by Chicago scalpers on east-bound New York and Boston passenger rates. As soon as the passenger agents in Chicago became aware that these tickets were on sale at greatly reduced rates they began telegraphing to their respective headquarters. The Trunk Line Commissioner was appealed to, and the matter became more exciting each day until now the talk among Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio passenger men is that the reads issuing these tickets must be forced to redeem those outstanding.

General Passenger Agent Watson of the Fitchburgh Railroad conceived the idea of giv-ing the teachers of New England cheap rates to the recent Convention in Chicago. He brought the Cheshire, the Rutland, the Central Vermont, and the Grand Trunk into camp with him, and they issued tickets over these lines at Nermont, and the Grand Trunk into camp with him, and they issued tickets over these lines at $22,50 for the round trip. This is exactly a single fare to Chicago by the first-class lines. The ticket brokers wished to do something with these tickets, so the Fitchburgh passenger department allowed a few tickets to go out with the name of the passenger to be filled in when the ticket was sold.

The moment General Passenger Agent Hanson of the Boston and Albany heard of the cut he informed his Western connections that he should "meet the cut" over his line. He issued tickets over the Lake Shore and Michigan Central roads, and placed the price the same as that by the Fitchburgh's Canadian route. As a result, the Boston and Albany sold in ten days over 1,000 excursion tickets to Chicago, while the Fitchburgh harely counted a fifth of that number. The scalpers found no trouble in getting a full supply of tickets. As the ticket had to be used going out, the broker charged his customer $19 or $20, and requested him to mail him the roturn ticket when he arrived in Chicago. Of course a few tickets were lost through the dishonesty of the customers, but the bulk of them were immediately returned. These were kept in stock, as they are good until Sopt 16, to be used as needed with those desiring round trips to Chicago, Detroft, or Cieveland. Others were bought outright by passengers and the return sold in Chicago to the scalpers.

Cleveland. Others were bought outright by passengers and the return sold in Chicago to the scalpers.

The Chicago scalpers found themselves so loaded up with Boston tickets that they sought a larger channel than New England as a market. They began using them, in connection with local tickets from Albany, for New York. Thus the crit extended to New York. and the other trunk lines came in and demanded an explanation. The Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Ontario and Western, and the Lacknwanna have no Boston connections to support them by the issuance of these excursion tickets. It all simmers down to a repetition of theirate wars of the past, and brings the bassenger men into immediate contact agains with questions respecting the maintenance of rates and dealings with brokers. Chicago, July 19.—The breaking of passenger rates on account of the special concessions to the National Education Convention has opened the way for an extensive operation by scalpers. The Chicago ticket brokers' offices are loaded up with Boston and Albany return coupons that bear indications of having been issued for scalpers' use. The regular rate from Chicago to Boston is $22. On Sunday and yosterday the scalpers were selling the tickets at $15, but to-day they raised the price to $17. In consequence the brokers are absorbing all the Boston traffic, and there is tiegels at $10, but to-day they raised the price to $17. In consequence the brokers are absorbing all the Boston traffic, and there is great indignation among competing lines. It is not asserted that the Michigan Central or New York Central are parties to the issue of these tickets. The matter is to be investigated by a meeting of the East-bound Committee, If it is found impossible to get these irregular tickets out of the way, there is no doubt that the cut rate will be met, and a general disturbance of passenger rates in the trunk line territory may be looked for.

Ed Corrigan Ruled Off the Tracks of the American Racing Association.

CHICAGO, July 19 .- At a meeting of the Wash-CHICAGO, July 19.—At a meeting of the Washington Park Club last night charges against Ed Corrigan, the noted horse owner, on account of his conduct at the race course during the mile heats selling race on Thurday, were considered, and the club expelled Corrigan from all race tracks of the American Racing Association, of which the Washington Park Club is a member. The horses chiered for the race were Sour Mash. Paragron, Irak Bride, and Irah Pat, the latter belonging to Corrigan. Irak Irak was ridden by Bisylock, who clearly lost the first hoat to Sour Mash by failing to turge his mount at the finish. When the horses came out for the next heat one of the judges called down from the stand and total Bisylock that the judges were not satisfied with his contract of the property of the propert

The Seventy-first's New Colonel.

Lieut.-Col. Frederick Kopper was elected Colonel of the Seventy drst Regiment last night, in place of Col. Edwin A. McAlpin, who resigned several place of Col. Edwin A. McAlpin, who resigned several weeks ago. There had been some talk of running Col. Frod Grant in opposition, but the latter declined the nomination. Out of the twenty-four votes cast, twenty-one were for Col. Ropper, and the remaining three were brank. The result gave great satisfaction to nearly all the rank and file. Col. Ropper first entered the militia as a private in Company D. Seventh Regiment, on June 10, 1803. He was elected First Lieutenant on March 2, 1804, and reclaned on Oct 2, 1804, to become Adjutant of the Seventy-first. He was elected Major on Dec. 17, 1884, and Lieutenant-Colonel on Feb. 20, 1865. He went to limitmore with the Seventh in 1803. He is about 40 years of age, and is wealthy. He was a number of Times elected to the Vermont Legislature, although his residence has continuously been in New York. He owns property in Vermont.

Commedore Cherardi III, Commodore Bancroft Gherardi, commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, was not at his office yester day, and it was reported that he was dangerously ill.

At his house last night it was said that although the Commodore had been a sufferer with dyspepsia for a long while, his present trouble was not due to that. Some indiscretion in his diet, however, made it judicious for him to remain in bed during the day. It was said that he would be in his office to-day.

ON THE DOUBLE QUICK. COL BACON GIVING THE TWENTY-

THIRD A LIVELY TIME. Killing Imaginary Enemies from Behind Trees and Bushes-The Twenty-second Will Ge Up to Peckskill on Foot.

STATE CAMP, PREKSKILL, July 19 .- A huge fireeracker went off in the still, dark hours last night, and the guards centred the deed right in front of the State officers' quarters. Every one is asking this morning, in hushed brought another surprise to the guard house. Col. Bacon had been made Commander of the Post in the temporary absence of Gen. Porter. This was not known to Lieuts. Hull and Hamlin, and they did not draw up their guard to salute the Colonel's approach, as camp courtesy pre-scribes upon the appearance of the Post Commandant. So when Col. Bacon spurred his steed almost inside of the tent and shouted. 'Are you all gentlemen of leisure here?" it caused constornation. The explanation was satisfactory, however, and when the Colonel appeared suddenly later in the day it took just fifteen seconds for the guard to get out. This morning was the proof of the Twenty-third Regiment. The drilling was splendld. Capt. Haviland led Company A up the hillside and kept them dodging about among the trees and bushes, lying down behind rocks, and slaying imaginary enemies from behind what shelter could be found. Capt. Holmes brought Company I to the charge, and made for the stone wall that forms the camp boundary, as if it were a line of Comanche braves. Battalion drill was devoted to every sort of battle formation. The best men of the regiment are said to have stayed at home this year, but no one would have thought it, so prompt and accurate were the movements. The quick-witted and energetic Colonel rained orders upon them in double time, and did not stick to the established tacties by any menns. He gave them formation after formation not laid down in the manual, but permissible and useful in emergencies such as are presented in the quelling of street riots. All the movements, whether in the tactics or not, were performed with precision, and showed there was little need to fall back on the apology presented by one of the officers that the single line formation necessitated by the smallness of the numbers placed the regiment at a disadvantage. Col. Bacon is very fond of double-time executions, and he did not fail this morning to exercise the men in that way. The band was brought out to make music for the last half hour of drill.

Two new orders have brought delight to the regimental heart. One is in the matter of baths. The time has been lengthened by order of Gen. Porter to include the hours between 5 in the morning and 9½ o'clock at night, excepting two hours after each meal. The time has been lengthened by order of whose conduct he is responsible, the privilege, of course, not to interfere with regimental duties.

The second section of the first class at West Point rode into camp about 3 o'clock under the command of Capt. Augur and Lieut. Price. Then the regiment gave itself up to entertaining, and the hilarious echoes, which may have reached as far as Haverstraw, showed that the Twenty-third was as well up in social as in military duties. Next to Company F's histori and kept them dodging about among the trees and bushes, lying down behind rocks, and camp was this: "Who-are-we? Right-of-line.—H.—Twenty-three—the—old-campalgneers."

The cavalry drill of yesterday was repeated. and the West Pointers rode away amid prolonged cheers, taking along with them Cadet G. H. Preston, who cantored off just as if he had not been kicked by his horse on the way down, and suffered treatment in camp at the hands of Surgeon Spencer.

The Twenty-second Regiment, which is due in camp next Saturday, will march up to Peekskill instead of coming by boat. A start will be made on Thursday, the 28th, the regiment taking the train to Van Courtlandts, where supper will be provided. Every man will carry two days' rations, and no weight except musket, haversack, tin cup, plate, knife, tork, spoon, and rubber poncho. The canteens will be filled with coid coffee. They will take no knapsacks and for covering will carry along shelter tents, which consist morely of rubber blankets. From Van Courtlandts the regiment will march fourteen miles on Thursday evening, and will then bivounc. A start will be made early on Friday morning, and a march of five miles effected, when the regiment will halt through the heat of the day, and in the evening advance again as far as Sandy Cove, north of Verplanck's Point, where they will spend the hight. Farly on Saturday morning a new start will be made, and the regiment will reach camp in Peckskill before dinner. The knapsacks and buggage will be brought up by the Long Branch, when will also carry the Second Battery and four Gatling guns. The orders, signed by Col. Camp and Addi. Smith, advise the men to drink nothing but oatmeal water, cold coffee, or tea on the march, and not to start out in new shoes.

MARY HORWOOD'S ASSAILANTS.

Three of the O'Conners Locked Up for Ex-

Mrs. Mary E. Horwood, who told the Fiftyfirst street police, on Saturday night, that she had been assaulted and robbed at 329 East Forty-seventh street, was in Yorkville Police Court yesterday. She is a tall English woman of 38, and was dressed in a shabby dark-brown dress, much disordered. She positively identifled Michael and Thomas O'Connor, father and son, who were arrested on Monday, as two and son, who were arrested on Monday, as two of the five men who assaulted her. Mrs. Ann O'Connor she also identified as a party to the assault and robbery.

The prisoners are a forbidding lot. Michael O'Connor, who is squatty and toothless, is 64 years old, and was barefooted in court, as his right foot is awollen. He denied the assault, and his wife denied it. Thomas, their son, a young rough, contradicted himself, and finally swore that he was drunk at the time Mrs. Horwood said she was assaulted and robbed, and knew nothing about it. One of the carrings taken from Mrs. Horwood was found in his pocket. He said he did not know how it came there.

taken from Mrs. Horwood was found in his pocket. He said he did not know how it came there.

Mrs. Horwood testified that Mrs. O'Connor took her to the house at 329 East Forty-seventh street on Friday night, where O'Connor and his son and three other men assaulted her, robbed her of $15 in money, an earring, and a gold chain. Justice Murray held the prisoners in $3,000 bail each for examination to-day.

Mrs. Horwood is in the care of the police, and is still suffering from the effects of her treatment. The police say they have the names of the three other men implicated in the assault, and expect to capture them.

Dulness of the most provoking kind continues on the Stock Exchange. There was nothing new in to-day's market requiring extended comment. It opened lower on account of London. As a matter of fact, London sold throughout, although not to a pronounced extent. In a local point of view there was nothing new. There were no new developments in the Baltimore and Ohlo matter, and it was perhaps less a factor than for some days. But beneath what may appear to be smouldering embers there is a spark that may yet burst into a finme of activity in Wall street speculation. It takes time to manusure a deal of the sort now in progress. time to manœuvre a deal of the sort now in progress.
